

HOW TO GET TO ALICANTE

 Province of Alicante
Province in Spain

You can Arrive by plane to the Alicante-Elche, Miguel Hernández Airport (ALC) and from there easily get to the city centre by the C-6 bus line (20 mins)

Capital	Country
Alicante / Alacant	Spain
Autonomous community	Demonyms
Valencian Community	alicantino,-na (es) · alacantí,-ina (va)

The Province of Alicante is in the Valencia region of southeastern Spain. It's known for the Mediterranean beaches along its coast, the Costa Blanca. The province's capital is the city of Alicante.

Alicante is a coastal city on the Costa Blanca and one of Spain's main tourist destinations, renowned for its beaches, fine restaurants and historical monuments.

Reaching Alicante by train RENFE is also one of the best options.

From Madrid: 3 hours
From Valencia: 2 hours
From Barcelona: Approx 5 hours.

Althought we recommend the train, if you are wiling to drive or take the bus those are 2 options that work well as well.

ALICANTE-ELCHE, MIGUEL HERNÁNDEZ AIRPORT (ALC)

From the Airport you can reach the city of Alicante by bus:

- C6 Line bus to the City Centre (every 20 mins)
- You can pay your ticket directly by card in the bus (4.5 eur)
- For more info you can check here: <https://alicanteturismo.com/en/bus-c6-alicante-airport/>

You could also take a Taxi (more expensive)

BY TRAIN TO THE ALICANTE TRAIN STATION

The Renfe Station is the main one, which is well-connected to most national and international destinations. Additionally, there are 2 smaller stations, namely the GV and Murcia Stations that are used for travelling to coastal and smaller, more local destinations. Tickets are affordable and can similarly be purchased online.

RENFE offers the AVE (Alta Velocidad Española/ High Speed) service and you can book the tickets from any available location directly here:

<https://www.renfe.com/es/en>

From Madrid the train takes around 2 hours 40 mins, and prices vary (as usual) depending on when you book and the time you choose

The shuttle service that we will offer to the wedding location will leave from around the train station area.

We are thrilled to have you here with us in this important day! Don't hesitate to reach out if you have specific questions, we will do our best to help you out.